Another Compak Sporting event planned for November 8–9, 2025 in Susk, Rivne region (200 targets)
Users can view the full schedule of upcoming events, check event details, and register to participate through the platform.
User Profiles / Personal Dashboard
Participants can create a personal account ("Personal Cabinet") to manage their registration, track their participation, and keep their competition history in one place.

Community & Networking
ClayArena acts as a meeting point for professionals, masters, and enthusiasts of the sport. It encourages sharing, mutual improvement, and friendly rivalry.
Partnerships & Affiliations
The platform is supported by relevant organizations and affiliations, such as FITASC (Fédération Internationale de Tir aux Armes Sportives de Chasse) and other shooting bodies (UFS, MIN, Thunder Wings are shown as partners). These partnerships help ensure credibility, standardization, and access to broader shooting networks.
Legal & Trust
The site provides a privacy policy and contact information (support@clayarena.com), indicating transparency and a structure for user support.

Strengths & Unique Selling Points

Disciplined focus: The specialization in clay target disciplines (Compak Sporting, Sporting, Skeet) signals expertise rather than a generic sports site.
Event infrastructure: It is not merely a listing site, but seems to actively host and facilitate competitions, registration, and participant management.
Professional community: By positioning itself as a platform for “training, competing, and winning”, it aspires to build a high-performance community culture.
Local presence, national scope: While events are currently in Ukraine, the structure suggests the potential for expansion beyond national boundaries.

Potential Areas of Growth & Opportunities

Multilingual support / internationalization: Offering the interface and content in multiple languages

(English,Ukrainian, etc.) could attract shooters internationally.
Educational resources: Training materials, guides, coaching videos, and tips for beginners or intermediate shooters could add value.
Live scores / streaming: Incorporating real-time scoring, live video or event streams would boost engagement.
Merchandise / equipment marketplace: A section for buying/selling firearms, components, or shooting gear (in compliance with local laws) could be complementary.
Ranking & leaderboard system: A transparent ranking or rating system for participants to track their progress and compare with peers.
